

Lights Out - Dorothy (Minister) Parin

I can recall an amusing incident at PRS. One night Gerry Jones was on duty in Collingwood checking that everyone in the dorms had got into bed ready for lights out. He came to our dorm and called out to my twin sister, Rosalind (Minister) who was snugly tucked in bed on the far side of the dorm "Had a cat's lick then?" She misheard and replied "No Sir, I'm Protestant!" thinking he had asked "Are you a Catholic?" Now we all know that Cleanliness is next to Godliness so I guess we Anglicans will just have to scrub up better in future!
