MILOCARIAN TROPHY

The Milocarian Trophy Competition began in 1946 and was organised by the Amateur Athletic Association. It was open to all schools and colleges in Great Britain, Northern Ireland and BFES overseas. Prince Rupert School entered the competition for the first time in 1957.

A school team was open to boys aged 15 and 16 and had to comprise at least 20% of those eligible in the school. Each boy had to enter and record three events performed in competition under AAA laws. Performances were evaluated in accordance with the Milocarian Scoring Tables and the school with the highest average score per boy per event won the Trophy.
